Dr. Alter Advises Decatur Curriculum Change

DONALD R. Alter, of the social science department, met with a board of advisers at Decatur high school last Thursday to discuss curriculum change.

Decatur schools have been in the past in curriculum transition. Their curriculum committee dates from 1939. In 1941 the committee worked with the University of Illinois and decided the present curriculum was not to more complete equipment and classroom conditions for studies. They now feel the need for something more elaborate.

The present planning program was held at East Bay camp near Decatur. At the meeting last week Dr. Van Til of the University of Illinois outlined three possibilities for curriculum revision: A. more nearly, drawing on established subjects; B. dealing with real problems through our curriculum; C. dealing with major problems directly without reference to chronology or published subject matter. No decision was reached at the meeting as to which of the plans would be adopted. Another meeting is planned for May.

The committee is receiving help from the University of Illinois and Illinois Normal university, as well as Eastern.

Dr. Alter formerly worked with the Illinois curriculum guide in secondary schools in the state.

Famed Quartets Sing At Eastern April 18

"GENTLEMEN, WHAT this country needs more than anything else is a good old-fashioned barbershop quartet singing," said Owen C. Cash, Tulsa attorney, as 33 friends assembled for an evening of song. From this group came the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

The Charleston Jordanaires, seven other quartets, and the Corn Belt chorus of 170 male voices will present the second annual Parade of Quartets at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Health Education building, followed by an "afterglow" in the women's gym.

Other quartets participating are The Alley Cats of Mattoon, the Morgan County Four from Jacksonville, the Decaturettes—1947 international champions, and the McPhee Trio of Mamma, Papa, and little Jerry McPhee. The Four Carpenter Brothers from Gary, Ind., sing both sweet and silly and do impersonations. The Four Misfits were the 1945 international champions. A famed number of this group is Sy "the hat" Perkins, so called for the small hat he wears and big cigar he smokes. From Louisville, Ky., comes the Kentucky Troubadours.

The Corn Belt chorus is directed by John Hanson, who directs the show each year given by the SPEBSQSA chapters in Decatur, Bloomington, Rock Island, Jacksonville, Monmouth, Canton, Cambridge, and Mattoon.

Tickets are 60 cents for general balcony seats, $1.20 for floor seats, and $1.00 for the "afterglow".

APO Cancer Drive Nets 135 Dollars

THE CANCER drive conducted last week by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, raised $134.67 for the fight against the dreaded disease. A parking meter was set up in the main hall and all students, faculty members, and college employees were asked to contribute for the fight against cancer. Signs of the Burma-Shave variety were set up around the campus as a reminder to contribute.

Dance Master At Assembly

ASSEMBLY NEXT week will feature Gertrude Lippincott, master of the Modern dance.

Miss Lippincott began her career at the age of nine when she appeared as a dancer in an open-air festival in her native St. Paul. In college at the University of Chicago, she danced under Marian Van Tuyl. Again, at the University of Minnesota, she managed to include dance and a membership in the Dance Society, Orchestis, along with her major studies of psychology and philosophy.

Serious study began after graduation from college when she studied in Boston with Jan Veen and in London with Leslie Burrows, a Mary Wigman pupil. Miss Lippincott attended European dance programs and recitals and made a special trip to Berlin to see the Olympic Dance Festival. She came back to this country to spend summers at the Bennington School of the Dance, studying with the leading American modern dancers.

After her return to the Middle West Miss Lippincott established the Modern Dance center of Minneapolis. The organization continued from 1937 to 1942. In (Continued on Page 8)

Presentation Dates Set For Spring Production

"THREE CORNERED Moon," Eastern's spring quarter play production has been cast. Work on all phases of activity involved in this production will begin next week and will be directed toward presentation dates May 20 and 21.

The play, a comedy in three acts by Gertrude Tonkonogy, has a theme centered around the heartaches and headaches of a family during the 1929 depression period. Family readjustment to being "broke" is designed as the road to the presentation's climax.

The cast will include Mary Belle Worrell as Mrs. Rimplegar, Paul Byers as Douglas, Foster Marlow as Kenneth, Virginia Burmeister as Jenny, J. B. Hamilton as Ed, Dorothy Cooley as Elizabeth, Vance Childers as Donald, Tom Rothchild as Stevens, and Anna Jean Bates as Kitty.

Women's PE Department Stages Dance Festival Tomorrow Nite

A DANCE FESTIVAL will be presented tomorrow evening by the Women's Physical Education department. The concert, directed by Miss Betty Farians, will be given in the Health Education building and will be free of charge.

Solo numbers will be presented by Nancy Dede and Mary Patton, who will interpret Jelousie and the Ritual Fire Dance, respectively.

Marilyn Miller Chosen As Delta Sig Prexy

MARILYN MILLER was installed as president of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority last Wednesday in a ceremony held at the chapter house. Miss Miller succeeds Betty Baughman, who will graduate this year.

A music major, Miss Miller comes from Oakland. She has served as recording secretary for the sorority for the past year. Band, chorus, and Cecilians are included in her activities.

Marguerite Rhodes was chosen as vice-president by the group. Miss Rhodes is an Eastern high graduate but her home is now in Chicago. Her major is speech and she is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensics fraternity, Players, and Debate. She is also a member of the student assembly board and the dramatics board. Last year she served as chaplain for the sorority.

The office of corresponding secretary will be filled by Vera Mayer, a junior English major from St. Francisville. She takes part in the activities of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, English club, and Business Education club.

Marian Michael, a junior business education major from Highland, was elected as treasurer. Miss Michael is a member of the band and served as assistant treasurer this year.

A freshman, Pat Brotherton, was installed as recording secretary. Miss Brotherton is enrolled in the two-year general curriculum and is from Mattoon. She was recently chosen to reign as queen at the Army Day festivities in Mattoon.

Nancy Worner, another freshman, was selected to be chaplain. A botany major from Lawrenceville, Miss Worner is secretary of the Science club.

The office of sergeant will be filled by Marjorie Chickadonz. Miss Chickadonz comes from Casey and is a home economics major. She is a member of the student assembly board and Home Economics club.

Historian for the ensuing year will be Shirley Fisher of Charleston. She is a graduate of Eastern high and an English major.

Other solo numbers will be presented by Catherine McQueen, Mary Patton, Dorothy Cooley, Arlene Swearingen, Shirley Middlesworth, and Dorothy Hoy.

Dances are accompanied by readings, piano, and percussion instruments. Several of the dance numbers are choreographed by dancers upon familiar poems. The first number on the program is a typical example: Christopher Robin is a naughty little boy who constantly dreams up mischief to get into. The rhymes and rhythms section is also based upon poetry.

The program is as follows:

- I—Christopher Robin

- III—A Round
- IV—The Angelus
- V—Urge to Dance
 - Ritual Dance of Fire
 - Pangs of an Outcast

Juvenile Menace

Water Guns on Campus

A NEW emergency of immediate danger has arisen on Eastern's campus in the form of a firearm (the technical name being water pistol). In the hands of not more than 500 Eastern delinquents of the juvenile variety rests the security and comfort of the remainder of the student body and faculty members.

From an economic aspect, the pistols have greatly helped the dime store's and dry cleaner's business. They have, however, used great quantities of the city and school's supply of water. (Water is the usual ammunition, however, one can make more enemies, and faster, by using ink or strong perfume.)

From the pleasure point of view, sham battles and duels between "water pistol packin' cowboys" afford an evening of excitement and sport. Passers-by and onlookers are often invited either to join or retreat.

"These friendly provokers of patience" also play important parts in class discussion. The faculty members may use their pistols both for protection and for awaking students. "This old invention—put to modern use" adds zest to an evening of dancing. Those who attended the record dance last Saturday night will readily testify to this.

When the water pistol fad has subsided and the males return to jacks and baseball, the females will be able to divert their means of protection into perfume atomizers. If the fellows cannot find some practical use for them, perhaps they will return them to the kids who actually are under 10.

Civil Rights Fight

Fuel for Kremlin Propaganda

SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS are covering up their real opposition to the President's Civil Rights bill with a barrage of malarkey about state's rights. This plea has been a constant bone of contention with the South since before the Civil War.

It means exactly the same to them now as it did then. As far as Southern politicians are concerned state's rights is tantamount to "never give a Negro an even break." Southern politicians is perhaps the wrong terminology; if the rank and file of Southern voters did not believe in discrimination they would not send the exponents of this "white supremacy" doctrine to congress.

In those troubled years preceding the Civil War Southerners waxed eloquent over state's rights as a cover-up to prevent the North from interfering with slavery. Then it was a national issue; now it has taken on a definite international tinge. The Kremlin must be getting quite a kick out of the South's attempt to keep the Negro "in his place."

The present situation is quite ironical. The United States prides herself as being a democratic champion of oppressed people everywhere. She is trying to show the world that democracy, in which the laws, in theory, apply equally to everyone, is superior to communistic totalitarianism.

Yet the South is making America a grade A hypocrite by her obstinate, narrow-minded, prejudiced attitude toward the Negro. Apparently the Dixie Democrats do not realize that they are not only destroying party unity, but what is more important, they are furnishing vital fuel to the Kremlin propaganda machine.

Ah, Spring

New Life Sprouts

STRANGE WHAT the first days of spring will do to a person. Take college students for example. What is more alive than a love-bitten coed just after the first of April?

The end of a fall pigskin season shows the sharp edges of a new school year all but worn off, and the search is for a hibernation hideout to pass the winter in solemn silent study. But let nature push out that first tree bud or present "robin-one" and new life seems to spurt through the old veins.

"Springtime in Charleston," a mere disc, puts spring in the joints.

Antidote

Desirable Aspects of an Unhappy Situation

"Let us, therefore, say no more about them,
But look once, and pass on."

—Very free translation of Dante; Inferno

AMONG THE thorns in the side of the administration of the college is the delicate matter of poor taste and bad breeding, sometimes casually referred to as "beer cans on the campus."

Understand that I do not advocate this policy of using our campus as a depository for empty booze containers; nevertheless it is my contention that in pursuing its "no beer can" policy, the administration might be a little more gentle and fatherly, somewhat less caustically denunciatory.

We students, because of this unhappy delineation of our environment, are sometimes made to feel that our President and deans (and not a few professors) look down upon us as riff-raff, no-goods, cads, bounders, hoi polloi and other types of undesirables that should have gone to Carbondale or the University of Illinois. The exact perpetrators of this aberration of code being unknown, a shadow of suspicion hangs over everyone, which is decidedly unfair.

In the first place, there can be no assurance that local talent is responsible. The cans could have been thrown from a passing car (from out-of-state), dropped from an airplane, or even planted by disgruntled persons of a low type, who "have it in for" Eastern.

Secondly, even allowing that unregenerate students are mayhap responsible, no one as yet has taken the proper pride in pointing out that down to (and including) the last one, the product encased in this questionably placed tinware was beer, which is, notice, a beverage of moderation. We should take pride that our people refrain from disgusting orgies of drinking the hard liquors, such as gin, whiskey, rum, etc.

Notice the brand of beer which has evidently so great a popularity. Behold, it is (so my friends say) a very inexpensive make; ergo, our students, even in their shadiest hours, are staying econocically within their means.

The can which this company uses is, incidentally, a bright (and seemingly non-tarnishing) copper color, aesthetically much more appealing than the ordinary work-a-day steel colored affairs, which rust rather quickly at best.

I asked REZ what he thought should be done to allay this unfortunate transfiguration.

"Them sure is purty beer cans," he said, admiringly.

'Correction?' Say St. Elmo Olson Fans

Robert Black, Editor
Eastern State News

Dear Sir:

YOUR PAPER comes to our high school and we appreciate it. We especially appreciate any news about our former star, Bob Olson. But we were very much surprised to read an article by Dick Kiggins, stating that Don Glover had led in total scoring in basketball for the season. We had previously read in the Decatur Herald that Bob led, which we believe is correct.

We thought we would see a correction in your paper, but two issues have been published and have seen no correction. Why? We are still in the dark. Which item are we to believe?

Very truly yours,

St. Elmo H. S. Olson Fans

●The News thanks the St. Elmo fans for calling attention to this error, and we are sorry that it has not been corrected before. Bob Olson led the team's scorers with a total of 251 points and Don Glover was second with 234.—Ed.

Cosmo Offers Portrait as Prize in News Letter-Writing Contest

(Due to recent misunderstandings between Cosmo Gaston, "Gou" will here be written by Cosmo "lash" will be the word Gaston.)

LAST WEEK "Goulash" received several letters of congratulations of which we are duly appreciative. "I have been reading lines of wisdom for two years now and enjoy each gem thereof," says M. G. Rennels, lately starring in Warner Bros. latest production, "The Front."

All those desiring pictures and the gang at the News as those that Roy Acuff (away over WLS) can do writing immediately. Since a limited number are available (25,000) entries postmarked than September 1 will not be accepted. All entries become property of the judges and decision is final. In case of duplicate prizes will be awarded (A 5X10 enlargement of the picture.)

Easter presented a very lifeless weekend with Eastern campus void of activity. One however, was as crowded as any day at Wrigley Field. The place happened to be the day the Sullivan domicile on North looked like a parking lot on a day night. Skeeter, Jim, and the Mrs. all had machines crowded into their way and Joe Walton's Skeeter is the owner of a Frazer which is the target of admiring pedestrians. It has drive, fluid drive, and just 'ole drive.

I think I've finally found why Heinie Husmann, Walter mouth's muscle man operating under the somewhat phony "cook", is enrolled at Eastern. Seems Walt has sent Heinie to school to get the straight about the cafeteria. The leaked out via Jack Winkler, handyman at the Little Co. who washes dishes, sweeps and helps during rushes. dry the dishes, that is.)

Anyway, Heinie even sports pencil behind his ear to give collegiate look. Walt even him an old wreck to polish effect.

ELECTIONS WILL be held next week for the purpose of electing officers to the Men's and Women's League, Student Council, and various boards next year. Organizations and groups should not delay in the selection of their candidates for these various positions. Petitions should be obtained from the Dean of Women's and carefully filled out according to specifications.

This election is very important in that the persons accepting various positions are your government; the election should not be taken lightly. Persons choosing candidates should endeavor to select qualified persons who will strive to fulfill the obligations of the job, and not merely personalities who desire the pictures in next year's Yearbook.

Slaughter Explains Fate of Cellar Boys

By Harry Read

ENOS SLAUGHTER, Red Bird outfielder, has an interesting theory about the fellows who play out their baseball strings on the second division or cellar clubs. Enos believes that most of these lower bracket boys are actually where they belong because they don't have that extra something needed to produce in the pinch.

When the blue chips are down in a close pennant fight a lot of players have a tendency to tighten up in the pinches. That's why Slaughter says they shouldn't be on a pennant contending club. The Bird outfielder, incidentally, is one of the greatest competitors among modern players. Remember his dash to the plate in the '46 series while Johnny Pesky, Sox shortstop, held the ball?

Modern mound artists who congratulate themselves on pitching a game sans a base on balls should take a look at a record hung up by Christy Mathewson. The immortal Giant hurler once went 68 innings without giving up a pass.

Wonder if Dick Culler, the Cub's latest attempt to plug one of their infield gaps, will be the "rookie of the year?" Culler is 38 years old.

The Cardinal camp is more than a little concerned about crippled Marty Marion. The talented shortstop is currently going around with an elastic brace on his ailing knee, and there is no capable replacement in sight for Mr. Shortstop. Joff Cross and Bernie Creger are both available but are hardly balls of fire at the shortfield position.

Murry Dickson's no-hitter against the Yanks last week was the first such spring training effort since the late Cy Blanton of the Pirates turned the trick against Cleveland in 1939.

Sudden thought—if Ewell Blackwell of the Reds had the power-laden bats of the Giants behind him this season he could notch 30 games. Last year Mel Ott's crew hit 221 circuit smashes.

Baseball has certainly changed from the "good old days." Babe Ruth got his start in the game when he joined the old Baltimore Orioles for free. The Phillies recently signed Curt Simmons, 18-year-old mound artist, for $60,000.

'Lounge Lizard' Paths Go Varied Directions

EVER HEAR of a lounge Lizard?

This tale is told about Lizard Bud Ashby, who is still singing, and four former Lizards.

Ben Hall is a charter member of the local Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America and after a meeting he and Bud decided it would be fun to get two other fellows on campus and organize a campus quartet. (A barbershopper is a man who likes to warble in public. The Lizard is the college variety.)

The quartet—Earl Searly, first tenor, John Holmes, second tenor, Bud Ashby, baritone, and Benjamin Hall, bass—made its first public appearance at an Independent dance in December, 1946.

John left the group and Fred Waltrip took his place.

The last time the four sang in public was at a Moose picnic at Villa Grove, for their paths went different ways after the school year ended.

Ben, from Hindsboro, a freshman speech major and music minor, is now working in a

Dr. Widger Speaks at AUP Western Meet

DEMIC FREEDOM in a "War World" was the subject of an address by Dr. Howard Widger, head of the English Department, at the annual meeting of the State Association of University Professors April 3 at Western university.

Dr. Widger brought out the fact that there have been no violations of academic freedom during and since the war than were anticipated, but as advancing biased and emotional opinions on political and economic situations in classrooms by professors of history, economics, government, sociology, and other fields while representing schools in professional positions.

Dr. Widger advanced the idea that the answer was a combination of: 1. The scarcity of college teachers makes administration hesitant about dismissing a teacher when replacements are hard to get.

The administrators may be making more earnest efforts to be just and to live up to the tenets of principles of academic freedom and tenure which was stressed by the American Association of Colleges.

It may be that college professors themselves are learning to exercise proper restraint and due regard for the rights of others.

It may be that the very fact that the American Association of University Professors now has individual membership of 100,000 makes it a more effective force for combating pressure groups.

Dr. Widger brought out a point by the chairman of the committee A, in his report of the meeting, in which he pointed out that because cases have decreased in recent years it does not justify the conclusion that there are no perils ahead.

The chairman pointed out that the problem is gradually emerging as we behold the struggle between communistic totalitarianism and capitalistic democracy.

Second point brought out by Dr. Widger in the address dealt with the problem of reducing the number of schools when the present enrollment of GI students is maintained.

EASTERN students were entertained Thursday and Friday in the "Kiss and Tell" being presented at the Mattoon Community Theater.

Four Faculty Attend Higher Ed Confo

DEAN HOBART F. Heller, Dr. Emma G. Reinhardt, Dr. Rudolph D. Anfinson and Stanley Elam attended the National Conference on Higher Education in Chicago, March 22-25.

Each conferee was made a member of one or more discussion groups and a number of groups in turn were assigned to a section. Each of the five sections discussed one of five aspects of higher education. These are finance, student personnel, curriculum, faculty and organization.

A group of the section on finance concluded that raises in tuitions and fees result from the need for increased faculty salaries, decreased revenue from other sources of income, demand for increased services and facilities, and the devaluation of the dollar.

A group of the section on student personnel estimated that enrollment in colleges and universities will be 2,000,000 in 1949; 1,900,000 in 1950; 1,800,000 in 1952; and 2,500,000 in 1960. The group came to the conclusion that veteran enrollment has reached its peak with 2,338,226 in the fall of 1947. It is estimated that 950,000 veterans will enroll in 1948; 600,000 in 1950; and 150,000 in 1955. It might be added that it is now believed that veteran enrollment will decline more rapidly than was predicted last year.

A group of the section on curriculum stressed that the evaluation of students' needs be interwoven with the learning process, the prior and non-school learning of students must be recognized, and no single criterion is adequate as the basis for evaluation.

Placement of the veteran student following his course of training was given special emphasis by a group of the section on student personnel. The urgency of the need for accurate occupational information was noted. The progress of the administrative machinery of the Veterans Administration and programs of institutions for veteran education was acknowledged, as was the need for the retention of VA liaison officers on campuses. It was agreed that delays in payments of subsistence must be eliminated.

Assembly Features World State Debate

THE ELEVEN billion dollars, called for by the government for national defense, said Jahala Foote, a member of Eastern's affirmative debate team during the assembly on world federation last Wednesday, is going for destructive purposes and nothing constructive can come out of it.

Miss Foote and John Tolch presented the affirmative arguments during the debate on whether or not there should be a world federal government. Melvin Levinson and William Cousins from the University of Illinois were on the negative side in the debate.

"Not only is war costly in dollars," continued Miss Foote, "but in human lives, too."

The affirmative team presented a threefold of government for world federation. The plan consisted of a legislative branch, much like our own Congress with an upper and lower house; an executive branch council, the men belonging elected by the legislature; and a world court with judiciary powers over the rest of the nations.

The affirmative side believes the present day United Nations are powerless to prevent war and that world federation would substitute law for war.

"If the UN fails, any more ambitious program," said Mr. Cousins, first speaker on the negative team, "will have multiplied obstacles."

The negative team believes the UN could be helped by affording it more funds, and by the nations working through the UN and not around it.

"World law is revenge," Mr. Levinson said, "and always has been."

At the close of the debate, the audience was asked to decide for themselves which team was the winner.

Stover Shows Slides At Art Club Meeting

"WHEN NATURE Paints," was the title of Dr. E. L. Stover's talk Tuesday at the Art club meeting.

Dr. Stover showed colored slides of spring flowers to a group of approximately 20 persons.

"Each slide," said Dr. Ruth M. Whiting, art department head, "was a painting in itself because of the arrangement and selection of the forms and colors."

Discussion at the business meeting concerned membership in the American Federation of Arts and whether to maintain the present Sargent scholarship or to merge with a larger one. A committee composed of two members from each class was formed to decide about the latter.

Landis Appointed To Survey Committee

DR. RUSSELL H. Landis of the industrial arts department has been appointed to the secondary school survey committee for work in Danville, Ill. next month. This is a part of a program which is currently being conducted by the Illinois School survey.

The program aims at closer coordination between school curriculum and the needs of the community regarding graduates of the schools.

'Log Cabin' Quilt Given to Museum

A QUILT which belonged to the minister who preached the funeral of Abraham Lincoln's father, Tom Lincoln, has been presented to the college by Bethel H. Hill '51. The minister, Thomas Goodman, was given the quilt by his congregation at Shiloh church. Each block in the "log cabin" pattern quilt bears the name of a member of the church.

Tom Lincoln is buried in the Shiloh cemetery and his funeral was held in the Shiloh church south of Charleston in 1851. Nancy Hanks Lincoln is also buried in the Shiloh cemetery.

The quilt will be added to the social science museum which will be housed in the new library now under construction on the south campus.

Hill is a descendant of Thomas Goodman, the minister, and is majoring in social science at Eastern.

VA Simplifies Rule On 'Goal Change'

THE METHOD of allowing World War II veterans, training under the GI Bill, to change their educational or vocational goals has been simplified.

Veterans studying in public high schools and colleges no longer will need prior approval of VA before changing their courses. These changes now may be approved by the schools.

Those students doing satisfactory work in their training no longer will need counselling by VA before their requests may be approved. VA's Education and Training sections now may grant this approval on the merits of each application.

Requests for course changes will be referred to VA's Advice and Guidance sections for recommendation only when the training progress of the applicant is unsatisfactory.

Schools will notify the VA immediately of all course changes they authorize. No training change is to be effected before the end of a term, semester, or other period of instruction for which tuition has been paid.

President Buzzard has said that several additional acres of ground are available for use if more students wish to take part in the project.

'Life' Photographs Exhibited in Main

THE INCAS, a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of Life magazine, has been shown by the Art department since April 1.

The Incas opened at New York's American Museum of Natural History and was on view later at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The exhibition is made up of 30 photographs by Life's veteran photographer, Frank Scherschel. Captions and running text provide a story sequence.

After his return from the European war front, photographer Scherschel made a six-months tour of Central and South America. He spent many weeks in the high, cold mountains of Peru exploring and photographing traces of the Inca civilization which vanished four hundred years ago—a civilization which is still to some extent a mystery because the Incas had no form of writing and did not record dates. Scherschel's photographs, in the enlarged dimensions of this exhibition, graphically reveal the greatness of this little-known and mostly unexplored empire of pre-Columbian America.

The photographs were taken for the most part in the Urubamba Valley, heartland of the Inca empire. They include the massive and mysterious ruins of Fort Sacsahuaman, the hillside village of Winay Wayna (explored in 1941), Ollantaytambo and Machu Picchu. Thirteen of the panels are devoted to Machu Picchu, one of the most perfectly preserved of the Inca cities.

Bums Have Lippy In Tough Spot

PRESIDENT TRUMAN should keep an eye peeled on Billy Southworth, Joe McCarthy, and Zack Taylor. These three gentlemen have a chance of proving themselves capable of successfully handling our top diplomatic positions.

Each of these diamond mentors has a perennial problem child in the fold. Southworth has Jeff Heath, McCarthy has Williams, and Taylor has Lehner. Nuff said? If the players in question can be persuaded to extend their best efforts toward the interests of their respective clubs, the aforementioned managers should be chosen "diplomats of the year."

Leo the Lip and the Brooklyn front office may come in for a terrific panning if Durocher doesn't bring his gang of Gowanus Bums home in front of the National League pack this year. After all, Burt Shotton stepped in and took over the Dodgers last spring when they were left without a manager at post time and brought them a pennant.

Feminine Feats Spring is Come-Grass is Rizz - Wonder Where The Archers Is

ALL OF the WAA activities have been outside since the last week has been very sunshiney. The softball club is planning a class tournament with three teams; freshman, sophomore, and a combined team composed of juniors and seniors. There were six or more upperclassmen at the club meeting, and only three more are needed to make the team.

Those in the horseshoe club played several games at temporary courts set up at the west side of the Health Education building. There is a new member of the club—Newt, the janitor. He is very good at throwing ringers so beware of challenging him.

There will be an indoor tennis court set up, and the more advanced players will receive additional help from Coach Darling. If interested, contact Virginia Burmeister.

Archery club practiced shooting at the 20, 30, 40, and 50-yard lines at their second outdoor meeting. One of the faculty, Miss Dorothy Hart, is rather good at hitting bulls-eyes, a fine example for her archery classes.

During the latter part of April, an archery exhibition will be held by the American Archery company. Everyone is invited.

The modern dance club will give a program on April 23 at the convention and third annual meeting of the ASCD.

Someone ought to buy some high-powered spectacles for Betty Lewis. She cannot distinguish between a worm and a snake.

If anyone wants to see badminton of the finest quality, drop in to the women's gym any Thursday or Friday evening. The instructor and three of her pupils stay overtime to gain added skill, and if energy would last longer, they would be there yet.

IIAC Diamond Champs Drop Home Opener to Sycamores

EASTERN FAILED to cash-in on an eighth-inning rally and bowed before the Indiana State diamond-boys 8 to 7 last Friday on the Eastern diamond.

The "Tall Sycamores" got away to a fast start as in their half of the initial inning Koz, Hoosier lead-off man tripled to right field. Four runs crossed the plate before Eastern could set them down.

Panther left fielder, Bill Crum scored in the Eastern half of the first on a single into center by third baseman Jack Whitson.

Indiana State came back in the top of the second and tallied three more times to give them a seven to one advantage over Eastern. That was all for Panther starting pitcher DeBouck. Kenny Grubb replaced DeBouck and held the Sycamores as Eastern began to cut down their disadvantage.

In the last of the fourth Seymour drove over second for a single, but he was tabbed taking second on a grounder by Gray to the Hoosier short stop. The next two Panther batters, Holley and Grubb outlasted Indiana pitcher Szymanski to fill the bases. Crum stepped up and slammed one deep into left field scoring Gray and Holley.

Two more runs crossed for Eastern in the last of the fifth. Whitson singled into right field and scored on a grounder through second by pinch hitter Del Barba. Seymour dropped one over the short stop for a single and mired when Gray tripled to moving Eastern within two. Indiana State's seven runs.

Grubb continued to hold Hoosier batting order scoreless. The panther half of the game chopped the Indiana lead to two runs. Crum singled to left field and scored on Slovikosky's double deep left.

Indiana State strengthened their lead in the top half of the seventh. Dierdorff, Sycamores catcher, tripled driving in fielder Pugh.

The final tally of the game was scored by Eastern in the last of the seventh. Art Panther first sacker, went out the Indiana pitcher, a walk and took advantage of two errors to advance to third. He completed the comeback by stealing home.

Whitson, Seymour, and the first three Eastern batters in the eighth, filled the bases but were not able to get home. Final score Indiana State 8, Eastern 7.

Western Dominates State Independent Basketball Tourney

CHAMPIONSHIP game of the State Independent basketball tourney was really a contest between Western and Eastern. In the final at Bloomington April 13, the Charleston Elks won over the Mattoon Gaines Real Estate by a score of 69 to 52.

Every member of the winning team is either a student of Eastern or an Eastern graduate. Nine of the 10 Mattoon players are currently enrolled at Eastern. In all, 17 of the players, who participated in the state tournament, attend school in Eastern.

DR. C. L. MAXWELL, school physician located in the Health Service, has released the following notice concerning the epidemic of mumps in Charleston:

"Mumps is becoming more prevalent following the recent measles epidemic and a careful check should be kept in all dormitories and boarding houses for signs of mumps. Anyone developing swelling on either side of the face or neck should be sent to the Health Service for examination.

"A careful supervision of mumps is more necessary in school and college age groups since the complications arising in the disease are more severe during that time.

"No house quarantine is required with mumps, but the infected case should be kept away from other people until well."

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is the best cigarette on the market. I've smoked them for about 20 years. It's mild and it's got more real tobacco taste."

"Liggett & Myers buy the middle leaves... it's the best leaf... it's mellow... it's got to be ripe. They consistently pay above the average to get the tobacco they want."
